TED'S BUTCHERBLOCK CONTINUES TRADITION OF GIVING BACK TO COMMUNITY WITH DONATION TO CHARLESTON CHEFS FEED THE NEED

CHARLESTON, SC—June 27, 2011—Since opening in 2005, Ted's Butcherblock at 334 East Bay Street in Charleston has been committed to not only providing exceptional food and service, but giving back to the local community as well. The staff at Ted's started the tradition of raising money through various in-store events and special dinners for a different local charity or non-profit organization each quarter, and has been able to donate a significant amount of money to many local organizations through the years. Recently, Ted's partnered with Charleston Chefs Feed the Need to raise funds for their program that utilizes local chefs and restaurants to feed the hungry. At their Backyard BBQ event on June 18, Ted's Butcherblock proudly presented a check for $1775.00 to Mickey Bakst, founder of Charleston Chefs Feed the Need.

"It truly takes a community to make a program like Charleston Chefs Feed the Need successful," said Bakst. "Ted Dombrowski and the Ted's Butcherblock team rallied the community together for a wonderful event and were able to raise much-needed funds for our organization. All of the money raised will go directly to buying food to feed the hungry, and everyone who benefits from this donation will be extremely grateful."
